Maritime Virtual Teaching & Learning

Congratulations to Eryca Bradfield and Genesis Contreras-Tejada who placed third in the city for their documentary on the Panama Canal, and to Isabella Ross, who received an honorable mention for her documentary on the role of music in the Civil Rights movement at the National History Day Philadelphia competition today! Eryca and Genesis will go on to represent the city at the statewide competition later this year, so wish them luck! Congratulations, Mr. Vargha, for your dedication to our cadets and for encouraging our students to enter this competition every year.

MACS was recognized by the Philadelphia School Partnership as a high performing charter school and received 118 Chromebooks. "The Philadelphia School Partnership is a nonprofit organization founded in October 2010 that invests in the creation and expansion of great schools in the City. PSP invests funds as growth capital to support the transformation, expansion and startup of high-performing schools in the charter, district, and private sectors. It measures success by the number of students the City moves out of failing schools by creating better-quality school options, and it judges school quality on the basis of student academic outcomes."

Chief Hentnick held a Google Meet for the Sea Cadets. Cadet Aranda received the "Sailor of the Quarter" award due to her hard work and efforts to attain a position in the Massachusetts Maritime Academy. Petty Officer Hazelwood earned a letter of commendation for attaining a > 90% in her 2nd class course. Chief Hentnick is looking forward to a great start to fall session, with trips and training already planned!

Ms. Karnes and Ms. Elicia continue to upkeep the garden by the high school building and planted a rose bush in memory of Mrs. Curley.

Mr. Mationni is keeping his mind and body fit while in quarantine. He is actively running and painting.

Maritime Elementary School

Ms. Olson, the Character Development teacher, has been doing amazing things with our cadets. She has led the "Character Crew Share Session" and created a "Positivity Project - Expressive Education" for cadets and their families.

Elementary school held a Virtual Spirit Week. Monday: Exercise Day; Tuesday: Talent Day; Wednesday: School Spirit Day; Thursday: Pajama Day; Friday: Family Day

Elementary Corner

Elementary students send photos of themselves creating, working, and planting.

Ms. Olson holds a virtual class with her students.

Maritime teachers join the Virtual Spirit Week fun.

Ms. Brazell has read and watched videos about growing plants from seeds and has been successful with her home garden. She can't wait to bring all of her new knowledge into the school's garden next year!

Maritime High School

The MACS High School teachers and staff dedicate the May edition of the Anchor to our Class of 2020. The high school team is working diligently on giving our senior class the most incredible virtual graduation ever. The Virtual Graduation will be on June 4th, and will include a video with speeches, awards, and a senior slide show, and a drive-through graduation procession during which students will drive by the school and receive their diplomas, awards, scholarships, and yearbook. We are all looking forward to this momentous occasion.

Seniors share what they'll miss most about MACS.

Mr. Mattioni signs the diplomas!

Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Feria prepare for the Virtual Graduation video recording.

The thing about Maritime, I will miss the most is the support system I had there. The teachers and staff always made me feel successful even when I felt like I was failing myself. – Emily Dippel

Making memories and seeing friends and my favorite teachers – Richard Zayas

MACS is a really good school, I encouraged my cousins to choose this school because it has good leadership, involvement, and zero tolerance for bullying. I will miss the school itself, and the staff members. – Marilyn Inderyas

I will miss the teachers and all my classmates because you all made it a great experience for me through the ups and downs. I really appreciate you all deeply. – Abigail Cortes
